Person with Life Path 4 is practical, reliable, continual, patient and resistant. He/she is exceedingly tolerant of people and any outside influences, as it has found the stability from within. Therefore, from the peace within, "4s" will search convenience and stability for everyone, and they can energise others into sudden changes of their character. They don't like changes, they need peace, however they tend to be unpredictable. They make their own rules quite often. Sometimes they live in the "future world" not considering anything different from their point of view. So they have enemies due to their ruthlessness and other people hindering them in their struggles. They often cannot bear criticism and react very sensibly.
